

ONE MIGHT WONDER WHY DOUG, a senior developer of mission-critical Progress-based systems, is outside the corporate office flapping his arms like a bird.

Doug's jubilation is sure, but has he finally lost it? Has he cracked? Is his frame of mind that of a pigeon?

OF COURSE NOT. Doug attended the latest meeting of the Delaware Valley Progress Users Group, and received answers to his questions and information on the latest technologies bringing additional power, speed, and efficiency to his Progress-based initiatives. You can too! Come out and join us for the next gathering of DVPUG.
